

Save California Jobs

Support SB 659 before it's too late.

As we unwind California's 70-year-old redevelopment program, we must proceed with caution to ensure we don't leave behind a legacy of lawsuits, layoffs, and billions of dollars in state and local liabilities. Only a few days remain to determine the future of thousands of employees, hundreds of construction projects and billions in bonds and other contractual obligations. SB 659 is desperately needed to temporarily postpone the February 1 dissolution deadline.

- X Prevent thousands of layoffs. Thousands of public workers and tens of thousands of construction workers will lose their jobs beginning February 1 unless SB 659 is adopted.
- X Avoid lawsuits and chaos. Without more time to fix the many problems with the existing law, there will be a rush of lawsuits and delays. California bonds have already been downgraded by Moody's Investor Services because of confusion. Unless SB 659 is adopted, the state and local governments could be left responsible for tens of billions in legal liabilities.
- X Protect billions for schools and public safety. Lawsuits and conflict could delay and jeopardize billions of dollars meant for schools, public safety and other vital local services.

With so many California jobs on the line, the stakes are too high. Take the time to do it right.
